RAMP: Reconnecting Keys

What if churches created opportunity instead of opposition? Ramps instead of resistance? What if we let them know they can get back on the road? What if we build bridges and not walls, opportunities and not opposition? This resource is not an end-all, nor does it pretend to know everything. It is one of several methods that you can use. It is for churches that want to be intentional in trying to connect with people who have left.
