Share and Care

Ron Clouzet sends the following report from Prophecies Decoded. We encourage reports from your church and how your community is being impacted by the series. Send reports to reports@propheciesdecoded.com.

1. At the live site in Nashville, 38 guests have indicated their desire to keep the Sabbath holy and 20 have said they want to be baptized. This was the first time they were invited to be baptized. Baptismal classes started all over North America last Saturday night, and decisions for baptism have been made all over the division.
2. Over 60 guests attended the first Sabbath Seminar at the Madison Campus Church on Sabbath morning, to hear "How to Keep God's Day Holy."
3. Attendance has maintained at unusually high levels, even to the point of slight increases over previous nights. We have gotten reports of similar steady or increased attendance from other sites as well.
4. A lady realized her job would prevent her from coming to the meetings on the weekends, so she decided to quit her job altogether and come to the meetings instead.
5. We understand that a growing group of people listen to the presentation live and then watch it again later online. In the live site at Madison Campus, a growing number who come to the first session stay also for the second session for a double blessing.
6. One of the churches in West Virginia, at first reluctant to be a downlink site, now report that they "can hardly wait to the next meeting and look forward to each new message...the passion for the Lord comes out in each service, and we who are members are also learning depth to what we already know which is bringing out a new passion and love for the Lord in us."
7. Here is the testimony of a young adult from Canada: "I'm Ruby, a 20 year-old hailing from Surrey, British Columbia. I want to thank Dr. Clouzier (sic) and everyone else. Prophecies Decoded opened a door to more than a little knowledge. Before I began attending, I didn't follow any word. I was involved in drug use. My life was nothing. Then a lifelong friend came to me, asked if I wanted to come, I might like it. So, I did. The first night opened up a lot to me. I had questions. I talked to someone at the church near my house. Now, my life is much better. I found solace in the word of God, and the strength to clean up. I'm sober now, staying strong, and it's all because I came to that first night."

The International Council for Corporate Health, directed by Juliet Santos, president of ICCH, launched www.MyHealthFixz.com in support of Prophecies Decoded. MyHealthFixz.com is a “one stop shop” that provides easy access to Adventist information on health, lifestyle, prevention, etc. The goal is to feature the Seventh-day Adventist Church in a positive light.

The website will provide the public information about the health lectures, about the longevity lifestyle of Adventists, Bible Studies, an Adventist healthcare system, schools, Seventh-day Adventist televisions broadcasts, Adventist Radio, Adventist Review subscription, Adventist Book Centers, and an opportunity to chat with people around the world through a “Forum” that will be monitored and controlled by ICCH.

Requests for nightly handouts, sermon outlines, book and the Andrews Study Bible by internet viewers are many. Dr. Clouzet will provide access to the materials nearer the end of the meetings. Host churches may receive inquiries from viewers in their area, perhaps even quite a distance away, asking for resources. Churches can turn inquiries into opportunities for visits or at least a generally positive interaction.

Bible lessons, Andrews Study Bibles, and Decoding Prophecy, Ron’s book are available at NADEI Resource Center (269-471-8303, <http://www.nadei.org/transaction.php?category=95>). If they need sermon outlines, response cards, decision cards, prayer request cards, or schedules, visit the host Website. To watch recordings of previous meetings, visit <http://www.propheciesdecoded.com/program>. Check out <http://www.facebook.com/PropheciesDecoded>.
