Share and Care

There is an updated order form now online at the host site. The products reflect the new graphics and design of an adjusted title for the Creation versus Evolution seminar to begin May 4. There are banners, posters, door hangers, handbills and reserved seat tickets to choose from. A visit to the host site, <http://host.propheciesdecoded.com>, which we hope you're doing at least every week, will reveal new resources and updated information that you won't want to miss if you're hosting the seminar.

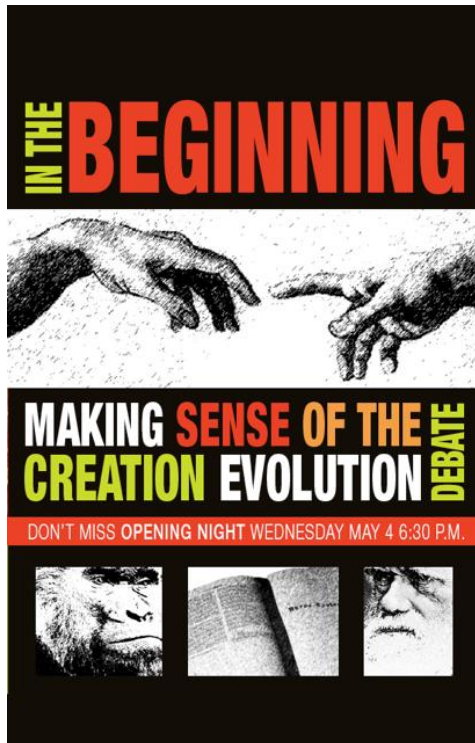

Are you going to be an early bird by registering before April 1? There are benefits—Dr. Clouzet's new book on the outpouring of the Holy Spirit, Nashville evangelism rally DVDs (March 25-27 event) and you'll experience the joy that comes from being part of the wholistic approach to community outreach. There are over 400 early birds who will get the "worm"!

Registration is a response of participation in an entire year of evangelism and outreach resources that culminate in a full message series by Ron Clouzet in September. It is not necessary to register for each event or even to host each event although churches are encouraged to follow the plan of preparation and reaping. However, once you do register, you will receive the manual, a DVD that guides you through the process of holding a series, countdown schedule, order forms for print items such as handbills and other resources.

Become part of the team by calling 855-NET-2011 or register online at the host site.

Process for hosting In the Beginning: Making Sense of the Creation-Evolution Debate:

1. Present idea to board for approval
2. Prepare congregation for involvement and support by showing video clips
3. Become a praying congregation asking God to bless your outreach.
4. Plan budget and advertising taking into consideration your unique community. (Ex: Troy, Alabama church is placing 500 door hangers on the campus of Troy University to engage university students who are interested in evidence that supports creation.)
5. Order print materials to support advertising plans
6. Arrange for mailing of handbills or plan member distribution of door hangers/handbills.
7. Prepare church to host community guests
8. Make sure equipment is ready to receive programming via Hope Channel.

➤ News story for local newspapers

Locate the news story at <http://host.propheciesdecoded.com>. Click on the event and resources. Personalize the article to reflect your church and community specifics by replacing the capped inserts. Then visit your community newspaper office to submit the article.

Printing the story will provide an explanation of the seminar, the topic and its presenters. It is an excellent way to let the community know they are invited.

We recommend that newspaper editors be given the contact information for the spokesperson in case there are questions from readers or the newspapers that print it. The spokesperson, Dr. James Gibson, director of Geoscience Research Institute in Loma Linda, California, has agreed to fill this role. He is an expert in the field and is therefore the best person to respond to questions about creation and evolution.

The headshots for Clouzet and Standish are now available for download at <http://host.propheciesdecoded.com/creation-evolution>. If the newspaper office permits, they can be used along with the news story.
